

Professor Booth
U. S. Mint Philad<sup>a</sup>.

Respected Sir:

I take leave to address You these lines on the strength of my having made Your personal acquaintance and enjoy'd proofs of Your kindness a few Years ago at the Philad<sup>a</sup> Mint.

Perhaps You know the "Taschenbuch für Mining Maas & Gewichts Kunde" (Pocketbook for the Knowledge of Coins, Measures & Weights) known as Nelkenbreckers Taschenbuch, — which appears in Germany at regular intervals since a full Century.

The editors of it, having a new edition 'soon to give out' have charged me with revising it in regard to the U. S. coins, Measures and weights, & & for which purpose I would be glad to have a certain pamphlet or rather collection of all the laws relating to the Mint of this country, which I had once and send it away. The Assay Office here has none of it on hand, and in the Booktrade I cannot get it Might I get it by your favor from the Mint? - If so You would oblige me much and I shall take care when the new edition appears to have a copy

at your disposal.

Yours very respectfully

Geo. A. Schorpf
